We utilized the services of Glenn Fields for over a year during our enterprise PACS acquisition project. Glenn's extensive experience and broad knowledge base were invaluable to us as we navigated through a very complex decision-making process. Glenn advised us every step of the way, from defining the technical requirements and desired functionality of the system, to preparing requests for proposals and negotiating with vendors, through the final acquisition and installation phases of the project. We would not hesitate to engage Glenn's services in the future.
